Tom Oakley experiences disturbing episodes of déjà-vu and believes he is going mad. Then, he discovers that he's a "Walker" – someone who can transport himself to other times and places.

Tom dreams about other "Walkers" in moments of mortal danger: Edward Dyson killed in a battle in 1879; Mary Brown who perished in the Great Fire of London; and Charlie Hawker, a sailor who drowned on a U-boat in 1943. Agreeing to travel back in time and rescue them, Tom has three dangerous adventures, before returning to the present day.

But Tom's troubles have only just begun. He finds that he's drawn the attention of evil individuals who seek to bend history to their will.

Soon, Tom's family are obliterated from existence and Tom must make a choice between saving them and saving his entire world.

A powerful demon has been trapped under the city of London for over 300 years.

However, malevolent forces are at work in the 17th century, planning to unleash terror and chaos on the world.

When a truant schoolboy, Ben, finds a scroll revealing the location of magical seals that bind the demon, this throws him into the centre of a dangerous plot that leads to the Great Fire of London.

Ben must overcome his own problems - fear of failure, desire for revenge, guilt over his parents' deaths - if he is to protect the city, and confront the evil demon.

As the plot unfolds, a little more of the mystery about Ben's own past and his parents' deaths is made known.

Ultimately, Ben and his friends must combat sorcery, defeat the evil Liberati and destroy the demon if they are to save their city and themselves.
